Lack of accessible information about publicly available services and programs in low-income immigrant communities remains an important challenge throughout the Central NY region. Addressing this challenge requires building a common vision for the community and cohesion between stakeholders and service providers. Thus, In this Immigration Integration Round Table will help bring representatives from private sector, local government, community based organization, low-income immigrants, local businesses, farm workers, farm owners, refugee resettlements agencies, and immigrant service providers together and facilitate a dialogue in addressing challenges faced by low-income immigrants.
